Take a slow breath with me.

In through your nose.

And gently out through your mouth.

Pause.

That's it.

You're doing beautifully.

Your body knows exactly what to do.

Pause.

Another slow breath in.

And a long, soft breath out.

Let your shoulders relax.

Let your jaw soften.

Pause.

You are safe.

I am right here with you.

And I will stay with you through every wave.

Pause.

Your body is strong.

Your body is wise.

And your baby knows how to come into the world.

Pause.

As the next wave begins, just breathe slowly.

In through your nose.

And out through your mouth.

Long and steady.

Pause.

Imagine this surge like a wave in the ocean.

It rises gently.

Each wave helping your cervix soften and open.

Take a deep breath in.

And slowly breathe out.

That's it.

Just like that.
